Easy-peel low-seeded tangerine

Roe Tangerine

The Roe Tangerine is very typical of a traditional Florida tangerine in appearance and flavor. It has an easy peel and is low-seeded (avg. 1.2/fruit).

It ripens near Thanksgiving and holds through January. It must be clipped.

HLB performance appears to be average of a tangerine type.

This is a productive variety and is a product of the W.G. Roe & Sons private breeding program. Growers may purchase trees from Rasnake Citrus Nursery in Winter Haven.
